

Since our name was added to Indiana's No Call List, our dinner is no longer interrupted by unsolicited marketing calls.

Is it FCC's business to interfere with a state's right to protect private residential telephone subscribers from invasive business calls?

I think not!